Facts & Information

Frequency: 11 times a year, monthly with July & August combined.

The California Cattlemen magazine is an award-winning publication that has been highly respected in the agriculture and livestock communities for decades. The ability of this publication to maintain relevance to beef producers across the country for many years demonstrates the California Cattlemen’s Association’s commitment to keeping beef producers informed and providing the best advertising option for you!

Target Audience
- Beef producers – commercial, seedstock and feedyard
- Beef industry supporters
- Property owners
- Allied industry partners
- State and local government officials

Readership

The California Cattlemen is an invaluable resource for reaching the people who want your products and services, including nearly 5,000 members of the California Cattlemen’s Association and California CattleWomen, Inc. This award-winning publication also reaches several thousand additional readers, including:
- Subscribing ranchers throughout the Western U.S.
- State and local agriculture officials
- California livestock auction yard buyers and sellers
- Elected officials

Your Advertising Dollars at Work

Every dollar of “profit” from advertising is reinvested into the ranching community. Last year, your advertising dollars not only delivered your ad in over 10,000 homes throughout the West but also funded critical efforts to benefit the ranching community including:
- Seeking delisting of several species from the California Endangered Species Act.
- Tackling challenges related to prescribed fire and other efforts aimed at diminishing the risk and severity of wildfire.
- Fighting to secure the creation of new surface water storage.

Field & Ring Services

It is important to CCA as an advertiser, you get the most bang for your buck. For more than 20 years, Matt Macfarlane has served as one of California’s premier livestock auction affiliates, working ringside at production and consignment sales, as well as working to help producers market their cattle prior to sale time. Both buyers and sellers look to Macfarlane for guidance in their marketing needs.

As an advertiser, not only do you reach subscribers who use this publication as a top source of information, you also gain access to a respected marketing agent who will work specifically to get you buyers and ensure your stock go for top dollar at marketing time. With more than two decades in the marketing business, Macfarlane’s experience, coupled with the quality of the California Cattlemen as a publication, gives you – the advertiser – the best opportunity to gain from advertising your products and services.

For more information, or to place your advertising order, contact Matt Macfarlane at (916) 803-3113 or m3cattlemarketing@gmail.com or contact the CCA office at (916) 444-0845.

Editorial

The California Cattlemen has been the official publication of the California Cattlemen’s Association since 1918. CCA is the only organization dedicated solely to protecting and preserving beef production in California. As the official publication of CCA, the California Cattlemen is the only magazine published in the state that is written specifically for beef producers in the Golden State. This magazine provides relevant and timely information of interest and necessity to cattle producers in the West. Topics of focus include:

- Herd health information
- Breed features
- Innovative ideas for producers
- The latest news from the beef cattle community
- Current state and federal lobbying issues
- Water and property rights
- Disaster relief options
- Cattle marketing

For editorial inquiries or requests, contact the California Cattlemen’s Association at (916) 444-0845 or e-mail magazine@calcattlemen.org
